Northern Rockies Tree School

Sponsored by:

October 10th & 11th, 2012
Best Western Sheridan Center
Sheridan, WY

Featured Instructors

Jack Phillips teaches a natural systems approach to tree care and consults for planting and preservation projects throughout North America. He is Principal and founder of New Tree School and teaches on the Faculty of Arboriculture Canada Training and Education. He was a student of the late Dr. Alex Shigo, considered by many to be the father of modern arboriculture, with whom he published The Soul of a Tree and The Nature of Tree Care. Jack will lead an interactive workshop exploring the unique and often misunderstood world of trees below ground.

Lance Davisson has worked for the State of Washington as a land manager and forester and in New Mexico as the State Community Forestry Program Manager. In 2011 Lance moved to Boise, Idaho where he started

The Keystone Concept, LLC— a natural resource consulting business. Lance is an ISA Certified Arborist and in 2012 was selected by the USDA Secretary of Agriculture to serve on the National Urban and Community Forestry Advisory Council. Lance will help us understand the essential role of trees in our community infrastructure and how we can build partnerships and support for more sustainable urban forests.
